Meet Donna Beegle. Her story of growing up in a family who were mostly homeless and picked fruit to cover their basic needs has been featured on CNN and PBS. Donna dropped out of school at 15 and got married. She will share how she was able to get her GED, study all the way to a doctorate, and create a successful career. Now, Donna is most proud that she can help her family—including her five brothers—and others who are fighting poverty. She has worked in all 50 states and 8 countries to help people achieve their dreams. Join her and see how you can have the life you want
